Intagras – Case Studies

About Novartis

Novartis, a Global Fortune 200 company offers a wide range of healthcare products through its Pharmaceuticals, Vaccines and Diagnostics, Sandoz and Consumer Health Divisions.

The Challenge

Novartis modified their key milestones for safety updates to product content. They needed a solution that would provide compliance transparency across the organization. The milestone updates crossed multiple departments within their global organization and multiple legacy software applications. The solution needed to leverage existing systems and data where it could to prevent redundant data entry. Upper management needed accurate on demand reports that would identify where timelines were being met, and where they were causing delays.

The Intagras Solution

Intagras managed the full life cycle of the application development process. Consultants interviewed users to gather requirements and created design specifications. Intagras performed the following:

- Define and map business requirements
- Create design documentation
- Documented options and associated costs
- Create project schedule and timelines, manage project scope and cost
- Develop, test, deploy, and maintain custom application

Web based data entry, SAP integration and reporting applications were created to help Novartis executives determine the effectiveness of newly implemented procedures. The application was strategically built to minimize data entry by integrating with their existing SAP ERP systems.

Technologies Used: ASP.NET, Infragistics Web Controls, SQL SERVER 2005, SAP, Excel

The Results

Intagras, fully understanding the clients' mission critical need for a fast deployment, put full resources into action. The Resulting application was launched within 45 days of proposal and exceeded each and every design request. Additionally, the application came in well under their projected financial budget. Management now has the tools to track and manage their SALTO documents in real time.

Client Testimonial

Intagras exceeded all of our expectations. They came in under budget – both in time to deploy and financially. They even trained our employees on the use and management of our new application. We are extremely pleased with the service that Intagras has performed and value Intagras as a strategic partner.
